

INVITATION

GEMAD Business Breakfast “Dividends from Disability and Diversity”

Learn how to grow your business or organization by employing people with a disability and people from diverse backgrounds. As Bob Ansett, founder of Rent-a-Car in Australia says;

“When the makeup of your workforce reflects the makeup of your community you have a competitive advantage”

BOB ANSETT

A panel of local employers who have enjoyed success from including people with a disability in their workforce and customer base will answer your questions.

Grants of up to $500 available now!

All you need to do is develop a simple plan to include more people with a disability as employees and/or customers, complete a short application form and a grant could be yours – that’s it no more to do!
Support will be available at, and after, the breakfast to assist you with your funding application and plan.

What is GEMAD

GEMAD stands for Gippsland Employers Making a Difference. The GEMAD charter is an initiative to encourage employers to adopt a number of principles relating to the inclusion of people with a disability in mainstream employment and become contributing members of their workforce.

By being a signatory to the GEMAD charter, employers will discover effective ways to recruit from a pool of skilled, semi skilled and unskilled people with disability who are keen to commit to an employer, contribute and add value to a business.

GEMAD signatories will be supported to build their disability employment confidence through newsletters and quarterly business breakfasts like this one.
